ALLEGEDLY STOLEN JEWELS BY POLICE; SIX ARRESTED WORTH MILLIONS RECOVERED

Valuables Found Tuesday in Safety Deposit Boxes

New York, May 28—(UP)—Robert C. Nelson, sixth suspect arrested as an alleged member of a band of international jewel thieves, was held in $25,000 bail today by Magistrate George Simpson on an affidavit charging suspicion of buying and receiving stolen property.

His case was adjourned for one week. Nelson was arrested last yesterday after police had seized jewelry from safe deposit boxes of four banks. The gems were said to be worth about $1,000,000.

Nelson, according to police, was identified in the police lineup today by Herbert Mosher, a private detective, as a former resident of Chicago. It was believed Nelson was a former cafe owner there and authorities were checking with Chicago police to determine whether he had a police record. Prior to the seizure of the gems yesterday police had arrested five other persons, one a woman, at a hotel. They were held without bail on a charge of having $300,000 in stolen jewelry.

Over 3,000 Pieces.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney displayed between 3,000 and 4,000 separate pieces of jewelry and told of finding them in the deposit vaults of four city banks under Nelson's name and that of Mrs. Elizabeth Keating, said to be Nelson's wife.

Nelson, 52, tall, well set, grey, described himself as a broker. He explained his possession of the gems by saying he often visited race tracks and purchased jewels from persons in need of cash.

He claimed not to know the four men and a woman who were arrested Monday in a hotel room as they quarreled over the division of $300,000 of jewels which were spread out on the bed. The five, who were arrested yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen property and held without bail for hearing tomorrow, will not say where they obtained the gems.

One of the bracelets seized in the hotel room is said to have been tentatively identified by John L. Carson, Jr., of Buffalo as one his wife was wearing when bandits interrupted a party at his home last winter and escaped with $270,000 in jewels and furs.

Five Wealthy Men Held For Kidnaping

Hammond, La., May 28—(AP)—Arresting five sons of a wealthy furniture dealer, authorities were prepared to act swiftly today against the alleged participants in the abduction and tarring and feathering of Dr. S. L. Newsom, prominent dentist.

The Tangipapa parish grand jury already was in session and it was indicated that charges naming Newton, Gordon, Charles, Ike and Henry Starnes would be presented for action immediately.

Dr. Newsom accused the five brothers of kidnaping him at the point of revolvers and covering his body with grease and feathers because they said he had been attentive to one of their wives. The dentist was dumped out of an automobile in front of a restaurant here early yesterday.

Red Cross Relieves Suffering In South

Shreveport, La., May 28—(UP)—Red Cross workers passed out food and clothing today to hundreds of refugees who lost their homes when the Red River overflowed the lowlands near here.

Two villages, Armistead and East Point, still were marooned today but no loss of life was reported among the 4,000 forced to flee. The crest of the flood was nearing Natchitoches today. From Jefferson, Tex., came appeals to the Red Cross for food and clothing for the scores made destitute by the flooding Big, Little and Black Cypress rivers in Marion county. The rivers have receded, but suffering still is acute, the appeals said.

The lobster's claws are not mates. One is of the crushing type, while the other is used for seizing.

GRAF ZEPPELIN RESUMED TRIP TO HAVANA AND UNITED STATES AFTER HEAVY RAIN THIS MORN

BULLETIN

Rio de Janeiro, May 28—(UP)—The Graf Zeppelin, enroute from Pernambuco to Havana, flew over Natal on the northeastern tip of the continent at 4:20 P. M. (2:20 P. M. EST), the National Telegraph announced.

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 28—(AP)—The trans-Atlantic airliner Graf Zeppelin, bound for Havana and the United States, left Pernambuco at 11:13 this morning (9:13 A. M. E. S. T.).

The Graf was delayed several hours because of a heavy rain, but when the weather cleared about 10 o'clock properations were started for her departure on the 4,500 mile trip along the northern coast of South America and across the Caribbean to Havana. For the second time in her career, the great ship will cross the Equator, making the passage just about where the Amazon river empties into the sea.

There was a big crowd on hand to bid farewell to the craft. Several airplanes stunted overhead as workmen began preparing to free the Graf from the stub mast which had been erected for her here.

The Graf expected to reach Havana Friday night or Saturday morning and to arrive at Lakehurst sometime Sunday.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

MAD COW BITES 40

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, May 28—(UP)—Forty persons were in a hospital today, suffering from the bite of a maddened cow which had been bitten by a mad dog.

The cow ran amok in a village near Essog, biting everyone in its path. Several persons developed hydrophobia.

JOY FOR RADIO FANS

Benton, Ill., May 28—(AP)—By constructing a wire cage around a violet-ray machine in a doctor's office here, Carl Whittington, a local radio expert has succeeded in confining the high frequency electric waves emitted by the machine to such a small area that no longer are radios in the community put out of commission when the machine is in operation.

AWAITING BIG RACE

Indianapolis, May 28—(UP)—Three rivals of Shipwreck Kelly, freak marathoner de luxe, have appeared at the Indianapolis Speedway to claim their annual honor—such it be—of being the first in line for the big Memorial Day race.

Ed Workman, Robert Hargis and Delbert de Busk, Flora, Ill., parked their car at the Speedway gate Monday afternoon and are patiently waiting for the race to start at 10 A. M. Friday. They seem oblivious of the fact that they probably will be the only one there until late Thursday.

WHAT IS TOO FAST?

Chicago, May 28—(UP)—Is 45 miles an hour too fast for boulevard traffic?

Judge Fairbanks of Speeders' Court says motorists should be allowed to go as rapidly as they please as long as they are not reckless.

Commissioner of Police Russell says the court's attitude in throwing out speeding cases on the grounds that the offenders have not endangered anyone is demoralizing police morale.

Chief Justice Olson has called a conference of judges and police officials in an effort to reconcile opposing views.

British Aviatix Continues Flight

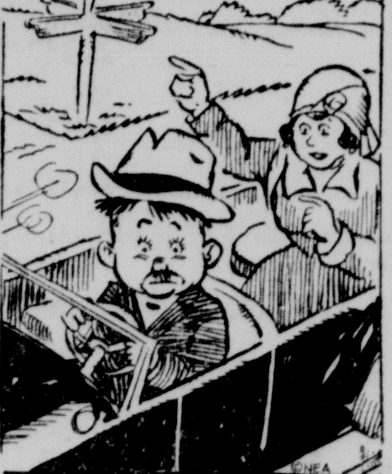

Brisbane, Australia, May 28—(UP)—Miss Amy Johnson, 22-year-old English girl flier, arrived at Charleville today from Long Beach, continuing her flight over Queensland toward Brisbane.

Miss Johnson fought strong headwinds. She halted at Quilpie before reaching Charleville, where she will stay tonight.

It is said that nine out of every ten adults are afflicted with some form of foot defect.

Counterfeiting Ring Taken

$1,000,000 IN BOGUS BILLS IN OFFICERS' HAUL

Three Men Arrested In Largest Seizure In Nation's History

New York, May 28—(UP)—Approximately $1,000,000 in counterfeit gold bank notes was seized and three men arrested in a raid on an apartment in Brooklyn, the United States Secret Service announced today.

The seizure was the largest ever made in this state and probably the greatest in the history of the country, according to Allen G. Straight, principal operator in charge of the New York district.

Materials were on hand, he said, for the printing of at least $5,000,000 in counterfeit bills.

According to Straight, the raids were made within 48 hours before the bills were to have been distributed.

Those arrested gave the names of Ferlic Mannerlin, Joseph Negris and Mattie Mattera. Each denied guilt.

The tip that led to the raid came from under-cover sources, Straight said. The notes were of such fine character that detection by other than bank employees or bill specialists would have been difficult, agents said.

LINE OF MARCH FOR DECORATION DAY PROCESSION

Parade Will Be Formed At 12:30 And Move At 1 Promptly

The Memorial Day parade will be formed at 12:30 P. M. between Hennepin and Crawford Avenues on Second Street, facing west. The line will move promptly at 1 o'clock west on Second Street to Peoria Ave., north to First Street, east to Galea Avenue and south on Galea Ave. to Third Street, east on Third Street to Dement Avenue, and south on Dement Avenue to the cemetery entrance. Here the line will halt, face center, and the line will be reversed, each unit saluting the other while passing in review. The line will then enter the cemetery and march to the G. A. R. square, where all units will attend the ritualistic ceremonies of Dixon Post, Grand Army of the Republic.

After the firing squads fire the salute and the blowing of taps, the line will be reformed and march to the Court House where the program will be given on the Court House lawn.

The following will be the order of the units in the line:

Polo Man Suffered Painful Injuries

Polo, May 28—Harry Bowers, a farmer residing five miles northwest of Polo, suffered a painful injury while sawing wood with a power saw at his farm late yesterday afternoon. His right hand came in contact with the rapidly revolving saw and the second and fourth fingers were severed and the third finger was badly mutilated. He was hurried to Polo where physicians treated the injured hand.

Champion Poisoned at Filmland Dog Show

Hollywood, Calif., May 28—(UP)—Harold Lloyd, motion picture actor has employed private detectives to hunt the poisoner of his champion Great Dane dog, Ilo von der Rhon. The champion was poisoned with strychnine at the Hollywood dog show.

I. N. U. COMPANY TO DREDGE AS CITY DESIRES

Assurance Given Council At Meeting On Tuesday Night

C. J. McLean, engineer for the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, appeared before the city council last evening and presented a communication in which the company agreed to certain requirements exacted by the commission at the time when a permit was sought to carry on the deepening of the Rock river channel. The communication provided that a channel 100 feet wide with a minimum depth of one foot at low water stage would be provided in the north channel as asked by the Dixon Park Board, as well as the removal of four small islands.

A committee from the Dixon Chamber of Commerce appeared before the council urging the washing of the streets in the business section at regular intervals during the summer months. The committee was given the assurance that the flushing would be operated more regularly.

A petition was received from the legal department of the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation, seeking a permit to construct and operate a drive-in filling station at the corner of North Peoria avenue and Everett street. Action was deferred until the consent of property owners is secured.

Several applications for soft drink and pool room licenses were granted after being approved by the Commissioner of Public Health and Safety.

Bills amounting to $3,613.51 were ordered paid.

TURNER FAILED AGAIN TO BEAT LINDBERGH MARK

But Did Set New Record For East-To-West Air Trip Yesterday

Los Angeles, Calif., May 28—(UP)—Col Roscoe Turner claimed a new record for an east-west flight across the continent today, having landed his Lockheed Express plane at Grand Central Airport last night just 18 hours and 44 minutes after leaving Roosevelt Field, I. I. The fast trip was made with a stop at Wichita, Kans., despite head winds fully all the way from New York.

His time, as recorded by Joe Nikrent of the National Aeronautical Association, was 26 minutes and 26 seconds and 58 seconds better than the previous record held by Capt. Frank W. Hawks, who flew the route in a non-stop flight in 1929.

Until he reached Wichita, Col. Turner said he had met with excellent flying conditions, but from there across the Rockies and on to Los Angeles, his course was beset by strong winds and a snow storm, which reduced his time by about an hour.

Given Ovation.

Landing in the white swath of giant arc lights, Turner was given an ovation by 1,000 persons who had waited past his expected arrival time and rushed forward to greet him. His wife was among the group.

Airport attendants were ready with a cage for Turner's companion on the trip, Gilmore, a lion cub, which apparently enjoyed the trip.

The flight was not an attempt to break the record set by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh on their flight from Los Angeles to New York, that having been in the opposite direction, but aimed only at the Hawks record.

Turner failed in a recent attempt to better the Lindbergh time of 14 hours, 23 minutes, for the west to east trip.

The primary purpose of the flight was to gather information on flying conditions which would prove useful in the establishment of an 18-hour transcontinental air express service, now under consideration.

Mrs. Hitchcock's Rites Tomorrow

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Diana Hitchcock, who passed away at her home yesterday morning, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence, 407 East Third street. Rev. J. Franklin Young, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will officiate and interment will be in Oakwood.

An airplane expedition will tour New Guinea to search for varieties of sugar-cane that can be raised in the United States.

DRINKING PARTY MAY HAVE BEEN CAUSE OF FIRE

Oklahoma Officials Investigate Report Of Rum Party

Oklahoma City, May 28—(AP)—State fire investigators today delved into reports that a liquor party was responsible for a fire which yesterday destroyed the Coliseum, a large auditorium, with loss of $300,000 and took a toll of at least five lives.

Hours of probing for the bodies of additional persons believed caught under falling walls in the annex of the structure, where 150 new motor cars were housed, lay ahead of rescue parties. Tons of brick and twisted metal must be cleared before the workmen can reach partially standing walls where additional persons may have been crushed to death. The tottering partitions themselves constitute a hazard which brought about suspension of toll late last night.

State Fire Marshal C. R. O'Neil was directing an investigation of a rumored drinking party in the north end of the building shortly after the flames were discovered Tuesday morning. O'Neil also sought to learn the identity of persons reported to have shouted: "Get a car out and you can have it," a cry believed to have lured onlookers into the annex death trap where falling walls were seen to topple on groups of men engaged in removing the automobiles.

Bodies recovered were those of R. A. Mason, 29, a fireman; Dave Meszler, 34, packing plant employee; Gordon Smith, 24, automobile salesman; Tom Smith, 19, nephew of Assistant Fire Chief A. E. Wilkerson, and an unidentified Negro. Three firemen were injured, none dangerously.

CITY GUNMEN ENCOUNTERED ELGIN COPPER

And Result Was "Just Too Bad" For Chicago Bandits

Elgin, Ill., May 28—(AP)—Two Chicago gunmen invaded Elgin last night, encountered the champion marksman of the Elgin police force and today all three were in St. Joseph's Hospital with bullet wounds.

One gunman said his name was Stanley Warwick, 25, of Chicago; the other identified himself as "Jack." He is about 33 years old.

Patrolman Frank Egner stopped the pair in Fountain Square on suspicion. They started an argument and he ordered them to drive to police headquarters. They drove around the block three times, attempting to bribe the officer, who drew his pistol. Dragging Warwick from the car, the officers disarmed him. Jack fired, shooting two fingers from Warwick's hand. The same shot struck Egner but was deflected by a note book, saving him from serious injury.

The policeman, who last Sunday won a marksmanship contest, returned the fire, wounding Jack in the shoulder, cheek and head.

Police believed the pair were responsible for a $1,000 robbery earlier in the day.

Mongoven's Bond Forfeit Revoked

Chicago, May 28—Leo Mongoven, formerly of Harmon, bodyguard of "Bugs" Moran, secured vacation of the forfeiture of his $5,000 bond yesterday by explaining to Judge John Sbarbo that important business had prevented his appearance a week ago on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Mongoven posted $10,000 bond to insure his appearance in the Criminal Court on the charge. His indictments resulted in dropping of the Felony Court case by the judge.

Two School Girls Tried To Suicide

Shelbyville, Ill., May 28—(UP)—Two 15-year-old school girls who wanted to die together are recovering today from the effects of drinking poison.

What motive Mary Baxter and Edna Wallace had in attempting suicide remained a secret. Beyond denying love affairs they refused to explain their act.

The double suicide attempt recalled that another Shelbyville girl, Emma Howar, 16, committed suicide a week ago.

12,000 Acres Suggested As Field for Drilling Operations

CEMETERY ASSN. TO MEET

A meeting of the Locust St. Cemetery Assn., also known as the DeWolf Cemetery Assn., will be held at the cemetery on the Chicago Road Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

ST. MARY'S BAND

The newly organized St. Mary's band will participate in the Memorial day exercises Friday afternoon and will make its second public appearance in the parade in the afternoon, leading the school children. The band is composed of students of St. Mary's parochial school.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED

Judge Harry Edwards in the circuit court has granted a motion for a new trial in the damage suit brought by Mrs. Margaret M. Bausch of Chicago, against the Pioneer Stages, Inc. The motion was sought by the attorneys for the stage lines on technicalities resulting from the trial before a jury in the circuit court a few weeks ago in which a verdict for the plaintiff was rendered.

HAD ARM AMPUTATED

Henry Mammen of near Prairieville is resting as comfortably as can be expected at the Dixon hospital, where he submitted to the amputation of his right arm at the shoulder Monday morning. X-ray examinations, made to determine the cause of six months suffering, disclosed a disease of the bone of the arm which baffled treatment, and amputation was considered necessary.

LIGHT BEACON TONIGHT

The automatic revolving beacon light, atop the 70-foot tower at the Dixon airport, erected by U. S. Department of Commerce specialists, will be turned on this evening and will operate every night hereafter, proving a beacon for aviators flying the direct transcontinental mail route. The light will burn from fifteen minutes before sundown each evening until fifteen minutes after sunrise the following morning.

Oil Under City?

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 28—(UP)—A virtual proof that perhaps the most productive portion of the Oklahoma City oil field lies under city streets, business buildings and residences created a serious civic problem here today.

Bringing in of the Hall & Briscoe No. 1 Holmes well as a large gusher at the edge of the city started an intensive drilling campaign. A controversy between town lot property owners and civic leaders was an immediate result.

Owners of property adjoining productive leases have joined with oil companies in demanding extension of the drilling zone. Against them is arrayed part of the city administration and civic officials who dislike the noise of high powered steam engines tugging at rotary drilling 24 hours a day and those who fear the consequences of wild oil wells and fire hazards of the oil field.

Property owners declare restriction of the zoning law deprives them of claiming their rightful property. Those opposed assert that their motives are those of avarice.

Property owners gained a point yesterday when the city council unofficially approved extension of the drilling zone to include East Capitol Hill. The permit was followed by staking of six new wells inside the city limits.

King George Better Day's Bulletin Says

London, May 28—(AP)—An official Buckingham Palace statement today said that King George's rheumatism which is preventing his attendance at the last two courts of the season, shows a definite improvement.

9,000 CHICKENS SHIPPED FROM UTAH RANCH FOR FATTENING AT DIXON PRODUCE COMPANY PLANT

L. L. McGinnis, manager of the Black Hawk Produce Company plant on Seventh street, had a force of men working today unloading a shipment of 9,000 chickens which arrived today from Draper, Utah. James Hawkins from the local plant accompanied the shipment of live poultry from a ranch 17 miles south of Salt Lake City to Dixon.

The birds after being loaded in the special poultry car, were fed a special milk diet until their arrival at the local plant. Here they were transformed to special pens to be weighed, sorted and placed in a special treatment building. They will be fattened, dressed and packed for the fancy broiler trade in eastern markets. H. E. Irey of the Dixon plant is enroute from Draper, Utah, with another carload shipment which is consigned to the Lanark plant of the Black Hawk Company.

On account of climatic conditions, it is necessary to cover the cars with muslin to protect the small birds from the cold. Three cars of broilers have been shipped to the Black Hawk Company from the single ranch near Draper this spring. In former years the birds were consigned to plants near Iowa City, but this year they are being shipped to the plants in Dixon and vicinity to be fed and made ready to supply the Fourth of July trade on the eastern markets.

General Assembly Takes Long Session

Springfield, Ill., May 23.—(AP)—A joint session of the General Assembly until 10 A. M. June 17, was passed with opposition in both houses here this morning. Chicago members objected to the resolution as introduced setting the time at 4 P. M. June 16, and proposed the change.

Speaker David Shanahan explained in the house that conferences this morning had indicated a recess as the best way out of the tangle that will ensue when amendments become the order of business. The recess, he said, would give Chicago members time to find what the Chicago council and other interested taking bodies think of the proposed amendments to the revenue article and tax relief bills.

TARIFF BILL'S CAREER IS ONE TEDIOUS FIGHT

Curtis' Ruling Again Sends The Measure To Conference

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The tariff bill went back to conference today for another revision of its carefully written but much disputed flexible clauses.

Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance committee, called the weary conferees together for a meeting tomorrow at which the task of drafting a new compromise will be undertaken. He hoped to submit a new conference report for debate in the Senate by next Monday.

The bill was returned to the conferees as the result of an unforeseen development in the long series of controversies that has attended the making of the measure. Vice-President Curtis sustained a point of order raised by a Democratic opponent of the bill.

This was based upon a contention that the conferees had exceeded their authority in drafting a compromise on the flexible provisions. Specifically, it was argued the rules of procedure had been violated by the insertion of language contained in neither the Senate nor House drafts of the bill.

The cause in question was that to make emergency changes in the customs rates proposed by the Tariff Commission effective after sixty days unless disapproved or put into operation sooner by the President. The point or order was raised by Senator Barkley of Kentucky.

This provision, proposed by Minority Leader Gardner of the House, had the approval of President Hoover but met with vigorous objection from the Democratic-Independent Republican coalition of the Senate. It represented an agreement worked out with much difficulty to reconcile the conflicting views of Mr. Hoover, the House and the Senate.

The House measure provided tariff changes recommended by the Commission should not become effective unless approved and proclaimed by the President. The Senate bill restored to Congress the Chief Executive's authority in tariff connection.

Birthday Party for Mary, Was Enjoyed

Chicago, May 23.—(AP)—Little Mary Cummings, 11 years old, had a birthday party yesterday in the State Street police station. It was a mighty nice little party. Ice cream, cake, candy and presents, too.

First, it was thought, Mary had been into mischief. She hadn't been to school for three weeks. A truant officer was sent after her. He found her at home, on her hands and knees, her fingers dripping soapy water with which she was vigorously scrubbing the floor. The little floor was immaculate.

The truant officer, Mrs. Mary Feeney, asked to see the mother.

"Mama isn't here any more—not for three weeks," said little Mary, wiping her red hands on her oversized apron. "She and daddy had a guess she got tired and couldn't stand it any more, so she left."

"But your father, he doesn't work?" "Oh, yes, daddy works," the child answered. "He sells needles on street cars, yes'm. But when mama left, daddy drank more moonshine and after a week, he went away, too."

"That's why I couldn't come to school, ma'am. You see, I'm the oldest. I'm eleven, eleven years old today. Yes'm. Then there's Janet, nine years old. She's my sister, and the twins, Julia and Frances, six years old. They're my sisters, too. Since daddy went away, the neighbors have brought us soup and bread, and I've been keeping the house clean."

Mary would not go with the Truant Officer to the police station until permitted to take her sisters and her tiny dog, Pal—"who keeps the bogey man away at night."

At the station the policemen arranged the birthday party, and today they were taking steps to look after the little truant and her family.

MUSIC BEFORE THE LECTURE

THROUGH the hush
It rippled softly,
Like small waves lifting in the sunlight
Or a breeze stirring in the grain.

Then with sudden joy
All the flowers were dancing in the garden;
Bluebellies and snapdragons
Swaying in the breeze.

Quietly, now. It is the peaceful evening;
The Tender Shepherd gently watches over the sheepfold
While the tired lambs sleep.

From a far hilltop shines a glowing light,
And now I hear, in glorious crescendo,
The hosts of prophets, martyres,
saints and angels
Sing the great chorus of the church triumphant.

Behold! Behold! O Zion, thy King
appeareth!
Awake! Awake! Put on thy beautiful garments!
Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!

Peace has descended like a white-winged dove,
And we behold the calm and shining river
That leads to the great sea of righteousness.

And now the soft strains of a well-loved hymn—
"Oh, gentle presence, peace and joy and power,
O life divine, that owns each waiting hour."
Fill the great hall. Each heart sends up its prayer
And feels a quick release from all earth's care.

Richard Trisdale Graduates from Harvard U.

Dixon relatives of Richard Orvis Trisdale have received the announcement of the Commencement exercises of his class at Harvard University on June 19, 1930. Richard Trisdale is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trisdale of Minneapolis, and a grandson of the late John L. Orvis of Dixon. Mrs. Trisdale, accompanied by her son's fiancée, Miss Margaret Slocumb of Minneapolis, will go to Cambridge for the week of the Commencement exercises.

On leaving Harvard Richard Trisdale goes to New York City where he has accepted a very fine position in the research department of the Bell Telephone laboratories.

Mrs. Charles Trisdale will go on to Philadelphia for a several weeks visit with her older son, John, who is an architect in the employ of Mellor-Mings, of Philadelphia. Later both Mrs. Trisdale and John will stop for a few days visit in Dixon with Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Fuller.

Luncheon For Mrs. Andrus Tuesday

Mrs. Frank Porter Howell and Mrs. Lillian Benjamin entertained with a most delightful luncheon Tuesday honoring Mrs. Leonard Andrus who has been visiting Dixon friends. There were twenty-four guests in attendance. A beautifully appointed luncheon was served. The tables and the rooms in the home were fragrant with a gay profusion of spring flowers. Mrs. Andrus and her friends enjoyed very much the afternoon together and the charming hospitality of Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Benjamin.

Dixon Will Have a Garden Visiting Week

Apropos of gardens, and garden shows and Iris exhibits, it is a pertinent time to talk of the "garden visiting week," which is to be held in Dixon some time in June. This movement is being sponsored by the Dixon Woman's club and a committee has been appointed for this plan, with Mrs. O. F. Goeke as the chairman and the following Dixon club women are members of the committee, Mrs. E. H. Prince, Mrs. Louis Pitcher, Mrs. W. H. Ware, Mrs. Edna Nattress, Mrs. Mahlon Hartzell, and these ladies are to decide what week is to be named "Garden Visiting Week" and will try to choose a week when the gardens are at their loveliest. There are many gardens in Dixon worth visiting and if you have such a garden in mind, or want your own garden listed, call one of the members of the committee named above and it will be added to the list of gardens and owners, and the list will be published as soon as they are turned into The Telegraph office. For instance the Herman Rasch garden is at its most beautiful now and the Ed Franks garden is equally beautiful. But garden week is to be named soon. Next year the Park Board operating along these lines in cooperation with the Dixon Woman's club offers a $50 prize for gardens.

Meeting W. R. C. in G. A. R. Hall Monday

The regular meeting of the Dixon Woman's Relief Corps, No. 218, Auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic was held Monday afternoon, in Grand Army Hall with a splendid attendance of members and one comrade present. During the session one new member was added by transfer from Paw Paw Corps. Application for membership was read. Several members were reported on the sick list. A large amount of clothing was distributed by the Relief and Child Welfare Committee. Department general orders No. 9 were read, asking the Corps to make a special effort to get the school children to march in the parade on Memorial Day.

The President Mrs. Hobbs requests that corps members come to the court house Friday morning, Memorial Day to help make bouquets for the graves of deceased soldiers of all wars. Also to meet at the court house at one o'clock to help with the children.
Before closing the charter was draped in loving memory of Helen Meuman, a member of the corps.

Attend Concerts Because They Love Music
Chicago, May 27—(AP)—A prince of violinists hid behind the tatters and smoked glasses of a blind pauper on a Chicago street corner.
From his $40,000 stradivarius flowed the same liquid, golden notes with which he had cast his spell over rapt audiences in many a crowded concert house.
A few dimes and pennies jingled in the beggar's cup.
Jacques Gordon, for nine years concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, whose cultured bows draws $1,000 in the concert hall, wheedled $5.74 from a casual street corner audience yesterday.

Does the public love music for itself? Someone wondered, and The Chicago Evening Post proposed to test the question. The Post proposed to Gordon that he don the

Freeport Iris Show Will Attract Many Dixon Flower Lovers
The official schedule for the eighth annual Iris Show to be held in Freeport is now being distributed. The show will be held this year on Saturday and Sunday, May 31st and June 1st, at the Masonic Temple in Freeport, Ill. It is given under the direction of the American Iris Society and the Freeport Garden Club. The doors are open to the public at 1 o'clock the first day and close at 10 in the evening and on Sunday they are open at 10 o'clock in the morning and will close at 10 in the evening. The planning and putting on of the Iris Show is due to the efforts of Mrs. W. T. Karcher, president of the Garden Club of Illinois. Notice of entries and other inquiries should be sent to Iris Show Committee, care of Mrs. W. L. Karcher, 1011 W. Stephenson street, Freeport, Ill. At least five days before the date of the show, that the proper space may be reserved for each exhibitor. The schedule, or book sent to interested Dixonites lists the classes of Iris and the prizes and gives other valuable information on the exhibits and the book was well patronized by Freeport advertisers. Mrs. Douglas Pattison is one of the chief exhibitors.

A NATION OF TOURISTS.

You get something of a conception of the extent to which the American people go touring about in their autos every summer when you learn that the hot dog and soft drink stands along the roadside do a total business of around $500,000,000 a year.

This figure is furnished by Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce. He finds that there are now between 110,000 and 125,000 roadside stands; that more than half of them keep open all the year around and that new ones are being added at the rate of 3000 a year.

Half a billion dollars is a sizable turnover for any business. The hot dog stand is pushing its way up into the rank of major industries. Some organizing genius probably will come along presently and loop a few thousand of these establishments into one vast, coast-to-coast chain; meanwhile the industry, unique in a land of great mergers, is composed of innumerable small, one-man concerns—a new field for individualism in the business world.

It isn't the size of this business that is interesting, however, so much as it is the meaning back of it. The number of tourists must be simply stupendous for the hot dog and pop sales to rise to half a billion dollars. That sales figure reflects a spread of the vacation habit greater than anything the world has ever known before.

The surface of the earth has been pretty well furrowed, in the course of history, by the migrations of its peoples; but was there ever anything like this annual migration of Americans and Canadians? Millions of men, women and children go roving every summer. They make the wanderings of the romantic gypsies look puny. They cover a whole continent.

Dwellers in the interior go spinning off to see what the oceans look like; coast folk swing over the mountains and have a look at the midlands. Mountains and lakes and rivers and sea beaches and deserts slide under the wheels of million cars, and provincialism goes out of existence a million sets of rubber tires. The whole nation shuffles itself each year, and Mr. Average Citizen, perched behind his steering wheel, does more traveling in one month than his ancestors did in all their lives—and does it in incomparably greater comfort.

And—just to set the picture in its real proportions—the incidental food and drink bill of these roving tourists to half a million dollars.

There never was anything remotely like it before. Its ultimate effects can hardly be estimated; but you may be sure they will be profound. The American spirit, 50 years hence, will be infinitely the richer because of this background of wandering.

CARELESS DRIVING.

Fatal automobile accidents during 1929 showed a 10 per cent increase over the figure for the year before. Nor is this the worst of it. The National Safety Council, after studying the situation, reports that the increase was chiefly due to careless driving on the part of the average motorist.

We like to blame motor accidents on trucks, or on traffic congestion, or on willful pedestrians who dart out into the street without looking; but evidently all of these alibis are deserting us. As a nation, we seem to be growing more careless on the highways—and this at a time when every year's traffic toll calls to us in louder and louder tones to exercise the greatest possible care lest our automobiles become a curse instead of a blessing to us.

And yet most of the boxing fans who are flocking to the rink are probably unaware that good many fights are on the ice.

A family of kittens was found in the White House the other day. Possibly it is one of the lost litters Senator Johnson is looking for.

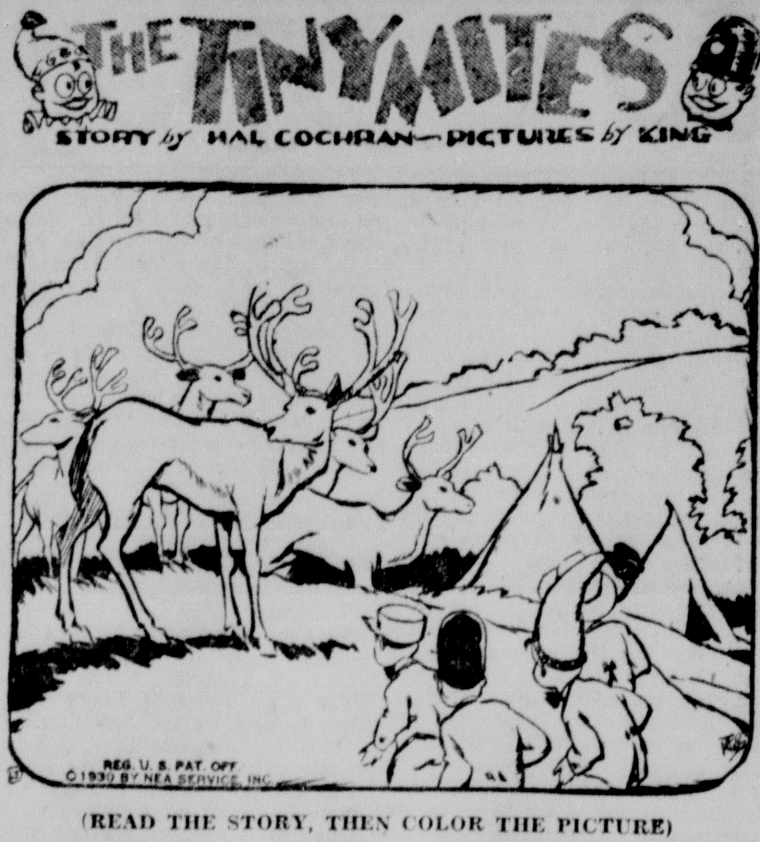

If the vogue started by Dartmouth students for wearing shorts take hold, the ladies will have a fine chance to reciprocate the interest men have taken in their legs.

The Soviet football team which was recently denied permission to tour England was probably considered better at Russian than the home talent.

Newfoundland has imported 100,000 hats this year. But this does not mean necessarily that they plan more rousing sendoffs to trans-Atlantic flyers.

Hockey, a news item says, is threatening to replace boxing as the mainstay at Madison Square Garden. Well, rubber battles were always more interesting.

Hockey is threatening to eclipse boxing as the most popular sport in New York, a news item says. At least at a hockey game you can see a puck knocked for a goal.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The carole soon seemed too small to in real comfort, take them all and so the Travel Man exclaimed, "Let's all take turns. What say?" That way we'll have a heap of fun and when the riding trips are done, I think you'll all agree that one by one's the nicest way."

"You're right," said Scouty. "I'll go last. I want to watch the rest ride past." "And I'll go first," cried Clowdy. "I am not afraid at all." Of course the others knew that he was acting rather selfishly. But they just let him have his way and someone cried, "Don't fail!"

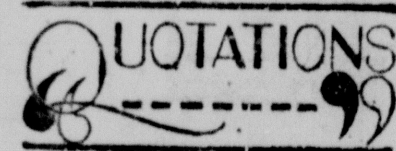

The little pony, hitched up tight, soon hauled wee Clowdy out of sight. Around a distant corner he was seen to disappear. "I hope he won't be gone too long," said Coppy, "and that not too far he joun's. Who's going to take the next ride, if he safely returns?"

"On, anyone," another cried. "So long as we all get a ride." And in about ten minutes Clowdy drove up to the bunch. The rest then traveled one by one and all agreed that it was fun. They then went to a small cafe and had a bite of lunch.

When they had finished with their meal, the Travel Man said, "Well, I feel that we should head for Sweden. We have been here long enough. The border line is rather far, so we will take a motor car. That way we'll see the country and the roads are not so rough."

They traveled several miles and then they hopped out to the ground again. The Travel Man said, "Oh, look! Some reindeers, right nearby." The others heard wee Coppy cry, "The reindeers came up close 'cause they were tame as they could be."

WILLIAM PITT'S BIRTH

On May 28, 1597, William Pitt, an English statesman, often referred to as the Younger Pitt to distinguish him from his father, William Pitt, the first Earl of Chatham, was born at Hayes, England.

After his studies at Cambridge, Pitt entered Parliament. At the age of 23 he became chancellor of the exchequer, and, at 25, was regarded as one of England's most powerful prime ministers. He ruled absolutely over the cabinet and became the favorite of the king, of Parliament and of the nation.

From the time the life of Pitt becomes the history of England. For 17 years he held his great position.

RINGWORM DISEASE
By John A. Turner,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Ringworm disease of the feet and hands is on the increase; in fact these extremities are more frequently affected than all other parts of the body put together. The lesions on the feet and hands begin as a very small, elevated, slightly inflamed spot, which after a few hours develop into blisters, containing either a turbid fluid or pus. There is intense itching which is relieved by opening the vesicle. The fungus spreads under the skin and under a quartz light these new lesions can be seen before symptoms appear.

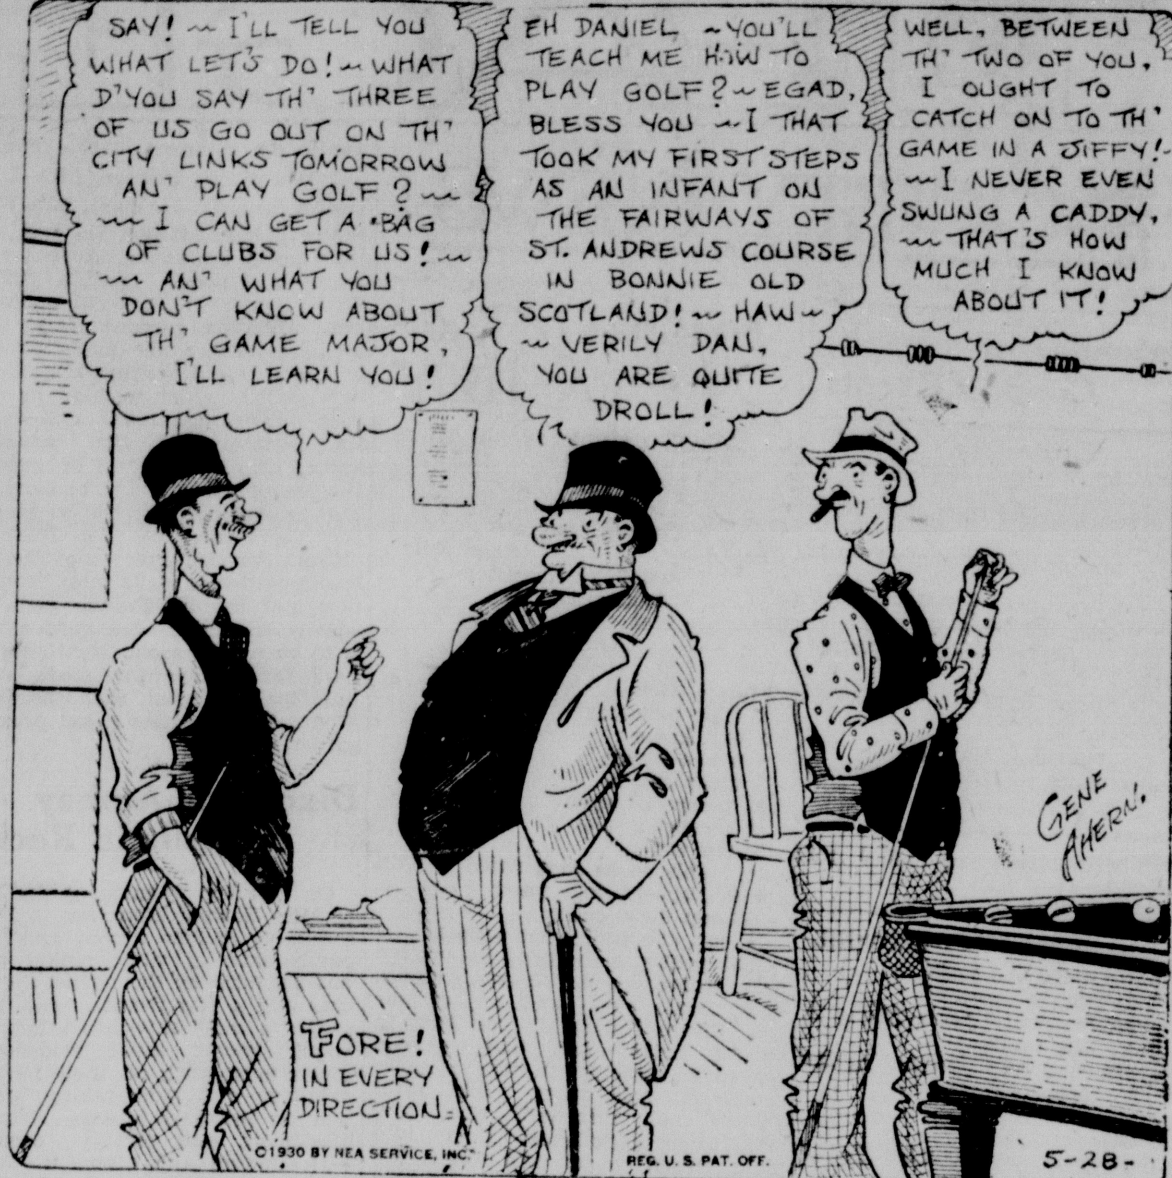

Ringworm is caused by invasion of the upper layer of the skin by a parasitic fungus. The fungus cannot penetrate the intact skin and it is harmless until it finds a place to creep in. It thrives best in the presence of alkaline sweat and on parts of the body which are poorly ventilated. The fungus accounts for the feet being more often affected than other parts of the body because a great number of people suffer from excessive sweating of the feet. The feet being covered with stockings and shoes do not get proper ventilation the sweat softens the outer layer of the skin, and it is then easily rubbed off by the stockings, by rough places in the shoes and by friction when the toes rub together. The skin of the feet is also injured when persons patronize swimming pools, bathing beaches, bath houses and gymnasiums; some of the wet, softened skin is worn or rubbed off by walking on sand, cement, or wood floors, and therefore is easily susceptible to attack.

In industry there are certain manufacturing processes which require the workers to work in or with water and because of lack of proper shoes or through carelessness the feet are wet during most of the work period. In some instances the workers go barefooted. Skin that is kept wet for some time is always damaged to some extent and provides a fertile field for the ringworm fungus.

Fungus infection of the hands is much less frequent than of the feet, largely because the hands are much better ventilated and frequent washing removes most of the fungus. However, the use of sand or gritty soaps, benzine, naphtha, gasoline, kerosene and other fat solvents when cleaning the hands will to some extent injure the outer layer of the skin and thus provide a means for the entrance of the fungus.

Ringworm has become so widely disseminated among our people that it is high time that something should be done to eliminate it. People who contract this disease should not attempt to treat it with home remedies, but should immediately consult the family physician because this is the only way to get prompt relief and to help control or prevent the spreading of the disease to others.

Seven Prison Bills Have Become Laws

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—President Hoover announced today that he had signed seven prison reform bills designed to enlarge the federal prison system and establish a comprehensive system of prison reform.

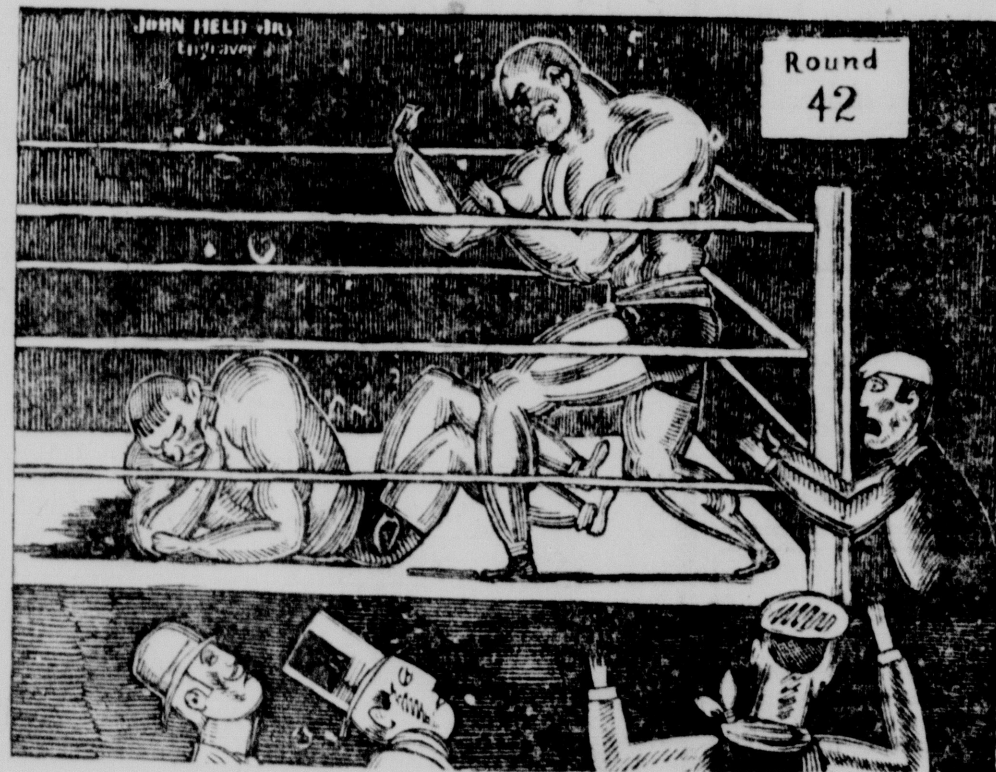

The acts assure building of two federal prisons, two reformatories, and a number of jails at a cost of approximately $7,000,000.

One of the new prisons is to be in the northeast section of the United States in the vicinity of Erie, Pa., while the other will be west of the Mississippi river.

A reformatory is to be constructed in the southwest and the jails in large centers of population. The other reformatory is to be in the east.

WILL WALK HEREAFTER

Medicine Bow, Wyo.—(UP)—From now on, William Higginson plans to walk when he wants to go any place. He recently stepped in the way of a horse's kick and emerged with a broken leg. He was placed in an automobile and rushed toward Laramie for medical attention. The car hit some loose gravel and smashed into a pole. Higginson finally reached the hospital with a broken arm to match his broken leg.

"TAKE THAT AND THAT, YOU DOG!" denounced CRUSHER KAZOULIAN

"Even a cauliflower ear can stand just so much—the dreary din of your fog-horn voice goads me to violence."

"Blow the boloney, bozo," rasped Wire-nail Welch, his opponent. "Do I get a return match?"

"What good is any kind of a match to you, you blighter? Unless you let the honey-smooth heart-leaf tobacco one-two that yowl and K. O. that cracked yelp, by the pearl buttons on the left spat of Bill Bendigo, your ring career is over. The next match you get, Palooka, use it to light up an OLD GOLD. There's not a squawk in a stackful!"

VAILE AND O'MALLEY
Value—Quality—Variety

That public service companies need watching, of course, and the public, in self protection, provides for such service through various state commissions. But it seems strange, in spite of this, that so many people high in public life seem to judge them according to code-Napoleon — not the common law; they are presumed to be guilty until their innocence is established, and they are given little opportunity to prove their innocence.

This is one of the curiosities of American life—a lot of people always believing the worst of public service companies. We can get a lot of good ideas from China. The Shanghai Review tells about a new exclusive franchise for forty years to the telephone company there. I quote some of the main points in the franchise:

"The company shall provide and maintain a first-class service, including all reasonable modern inventions in accordance with modern practice, and adequate to the needs from time to time of the area in respect of which the franchise herein is granted. If the company at any time refuses, fails, or neglects to perform all or any of the obligations imposed upon it under this agreement, the council may forthwith require the question whether or not the company has duly performed, or is duly performing all or any of its obligations hereunder, to be referred to arbitration. If one-third of the company's subscribers under the provisions of this agreement shall at any time make complaint to the council with regard to the company's service, the council shall, if it considers the complaint warranted, be entitled to refer the matter of such complaint to arbitration."

This word "arbitration" caught my eye. Why not do a little arbitrating when you have complaints—imaginary or otherwise—against the gas, electric, telephone, ice and railroad companies? Don't consider them guilty of everything under the sun and cuss them out morning, noon and night, but give them a chance. They might be right and you might be wrong. Talk it over with them first, and then if you are not satisfied, try arbitration.

Baseball Gossip

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Two major league baseball teams, the St. Louis Cardinals and Washington Senators, are doing their best to break away from the pack in the close major league races. But so far their efforts have resulted only in a pair of fine winning streaks and rather precarious holds on first place.
Washington is quite safe for the present, holding a margin of four games over the Philadelphia Athletics. However, the Senators cannot take many chances and still remain

Mr. Sharkey Futs a Punch Into His Work

"Max Schmeling? I'll cut him to ribbons!" That was the pre-battle prediction of Jack Sharkey, and here Boston's garrulous gob shows how he intends to go about it. In these scenes at Sharkey's training camp in Orangeburgh N. Y., you see him firing fast rights and lefts at a punching bag, limbering his ring legs by skipping the rope, and going up on his toes to deliver a long, powerful blow at a punching sack. Its in the fighting pose shown in the inset, that Schmeling, the German heavyweight invader, will see him when they meet in the Yankee Stadium, New York, on June 12.

ahead. To get to its present position, Washington has had to win seven games in a row and continue an almost unbroken streak through 20 contests. The Senators have won eleven out of their last 12 games and 16 out of 20.

The Cardinals held their place yesterday by beating the New York Yankees, 7 to 2. Sad Sam Jones was the whole show. He held the Yanks to four hits, three of them going to Babe Ruth, pitched his fifth complete game of the year and won his sixth successive victory. His teammates backed him up to the extent of 14 hits.

The Cardinal string of victories was broken for the second time in 19 games yesterday and St. Louis lost a fine chance to get a safer lead over the Brooklyn Robins. But the St. Louis hitters were not much more effective against Larry French than the Robins were against Bill Walker and the two leaders of the National League went down in defeat, remaining only a half game apart. St. Louis lost to Pittsburgh, 6 to 5, and Brooklyn to the New York Giants, 3 to 1.

The Cards started winning May 7 and ran nine games before their first setback. Then they added eight more victories before running into French yesterday. The Pirate hurler, working after only two days rest, gave St. Louis 13 hits but was effective in the tight spots. He also started Pittsburgh off to a good lead by hitting a triple with the bases full in the second inning, then scoring the fourth run.

The Philadelphia Athletics continued to pick up steam at the expense of the Boston Red Sox. They won their third game in a row and gave Boston its tenth successive defeat by a 7 to 5 score.

The third place Cleveland Indians did even better against Chicago, sending the White Sox down to sixth place by sweeping their second double header in two days, 3 to 2 and 9 to 8. The teams showed almost every kind of baseball from a pitching duel between Mel Harder and Dutch Henry in the opener to a slugging match in the second game in which the Sox went ahead by scoring four runs in the ninth inning only to have Cleveland overtake them again. Ted Lyons, the fourth Chicago pitcher, was the real second game loser. He went in for the ninth inning and was charged with the defeat after having won six games in succession.

Detroit, supplanting Chicago in fifth place, went to even greater limits of slugging for a 16 to 11 victory over the St. Louis Browns. Nine pitchers worked for the two teams. Detroit made 21 hits, three of them homers, and the Browns, 13.

FLEECELESS LAMB

Kenton, Ohio —(UP)—A freak lamb, owned by J. W. Snyder of near here, is arousing much interest in this community. The lamb has lived four weeks without acquiring hair, wool, or even eyelashes. JONES AMONG FOUR HOLDING PLACE IN PLAY

Advances Today In His Fight To Win British Amateur

BULLETIN

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 28.—(UP)—Bobby Jones, number 1 U. S. golfer and the favorite to win the British amateur, passed his first big test today by defeating the defending champion, Cyril Tolley, of the Royal and Ancient Club, St. Andrews, by one up in 19 holes.

The battle was close throughout and at no time was either player more than one up.

By ARCH RODGERS

United Press Staff Correspondent
St. Andrews, Scotland, May 28.—(UP)—Bobby Jones, top ranking U. S. golfer, defeated Cowan Shankland of St. George, 5 and 3 in a third-round match of the British amateur championships here today.

Harrison R. Johnston of St. Paul, U. S. amateur champion, also remained in the competition by defeating Col. Moore Brubazon, also of St. George, in the third round, 6 and 6.

Roland MacKenzie of Wilmington, Del. and George Von Elm of Detroit, also won their third round matches. MacKenzie beat H. L. Holden of Sandiway, 6 and 4. Von Elm beat D. B. Anderson of St. George, 2 and 1.

Jones had been one up at the ninth in his match with Shankland. He ran away to an early lead, winning the first three holes with fours against fives, but Shankland soon cut that lead, winning on the ninth, to reduce Jones margin to one hole.

Jones reached the first green in two against a strong wind. He was well on the second green with an iron while Shankland cut his drive into trouble, and Jones also won that hole 4-5. Jones won the third, 4-5.

Wind Bothered Jones

Both were on the fourth hole in two and the wind curled Jones first putt away from the hole. Jones took two more putts and Shankland won with a 4 to a 5. Shankland also won the fifth with a 5 to a 6.
The sixth was halved in fours after Jones placed a jigger four yards from the pin. The seventh was also halved in fours. The wind carried Bobby's tee shot over the green on the eighth. He chipped back to within one yard of the pin but missed the putt. He got a fine break, however, for Shankland visibly nervous, required four putts for a five to Bobby's four.

Shankland won the ninth to cut Bobby's lead to one hole again after the American was bunkered in front of the green on his tee shot, came out short, and missed a one-yard putt.

Jones was well on in two on the tenth, to score a four and a win. He also won the eleventh with a four, although his iron tee shot nearly rolled into a bunker.

Unorthodox Gallery

Shankland held Jones to a half in fours on the twelfth. They also halved the 13th, both seconds getting well on, and both putts being short.

On the 14th, Jones skirted "Hell Bunker" to the edge of the green, putting dead, to win with a four to a six. Jones won the match by being well on the 15th in two strokes while Shankland was short with his second. Jones had an unorthodox gallery during the early part of his play. Pajama-clad golf fans appeared in many of the hotel windows, holding field glasses to their eyes.

A gallery of 200 was on hand to see the first blow struck. The weather was a bit chilly and just before starting to play, Jones sent a caddy back to the hotel for an extra sweater.

Independents Won Game In Evening

More than a thousand people attended the baseball game played under electric flood lights at the Municipal Airport last evening in which the Dixon Independents defeated the California Owls by a score of 19 to 6. The game started shortly after 8 o'clock and nine innings were played.

HAL CARLSON, CUB PITCHER, WAS STRICKEN

Died Suddenly At His Hotel Room; Death Blow to Team

Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—Hal Carlson, one of two Chicago Cubs pitchers with a winning percentage for this season, died suddenly in his hotel room early today. He was 30 years old and married.

Dr. John F. Davis, physician for the baseball club, was called at 3 o'clock this morning when Carlson complained of severe stomach pains. Death occurred 35 minutes later as plans were being made to move him to a hospital.

Cliff Heathcote, Hazen Cuyler and Riggs Stephenson, Cub outfielders, were at Carlson's bedside when he died. Mrs. Carlson is in a maternity hospital in Rockford, Ill., where the Carlson home is located. Besides the widow, a four-year-old child survives.

Carlson has not been in robust health for many months, although at the spring training camp on Catalina Island he was reported as being in better form than for years. He was a player who was conscientious in keeping himself in the best possible physical condition and was depended upon by Manager Joe McCarthy to win a majority of the games he pitched this year.

Hard Blow To Team
Carlson's pitching record, according to the latest official records which include games of last Wednesday, shows four games won and one lost. Only Charley Root of the other regulars on the Cubs pitching staff has a winning percentage. Last year Carlson also was a winning pitcher, although he did not work regularly, due to ill health.

The Chicago Cubs paid $30,000 and gave two players, Kaufmann and Cooney, to the Philadelphia Nationals for Carlson two years ago. His death has come as a tragic climax to a series of misfortunes which have handicapped the ball club throughout the season. Illness, injury, and now death, have joined to make the club's campaign for another pennant a hard fight. Hornsby, Bell, Bush and Stephenson are four regulars whose talents have been denied the club most of the year by illness and injury.

BEGAN IN ROCKFORD
Rockford, Ill., May 28.—(AP)—Hal Carlson, Chicago Cubs pitcher who died suddenly in Chicago early today, was a native of Rockford where he started his baseball career on the sandlots.

At the age of 16 he pitched for the Rockford Maroons, a semi-pro team, and after three years went to the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association. He played with Milwaukee for a season and a half and was sold to a Grand Rapids, Mich., team.

In 1916 he returned to the old Rockford team of the Three Eye League and soon after he was drafted by the Chicago White Sox, but in a mix-up went to the Pittsburgh Pirates for seven years and expressed keen disappointment when he was sold to Wichita Falls of the Western League in the belief that his major league days were over.

Gassed In France
He enjoyed an excellent season with Wichita, however, and the following year was drafted by the Philadelphia Nationals, who traded him to the Cubs in 1927. He had been a first string hurler for the Cubs and was expected to win the majority of his games this season.

Carlson was born in Rockford, May 17, 1894. Most of his summers were spent here on the farm of a brother-in-law. He served in France during the World War, was discharged with the rank of Sergeant. He had been gassed but escaped unscathed.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Eva Nelson of Altona, Ill. They were married Oct. 25, 1924, and

Tornado Tuesday In Vicinity Of Streator

Streator, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Damage to buildings and farms estimated at $250,000 and injuries to two persons was the toll of a tornado which swept along the course of the Vermillion river yesterday.

No houses in Streator were blown down but many had porches torn away and a number of trees were uprooted. Silos and windmills were razed on farms near here.

Five hundred employees of the Metal Stamping Corporation left for their homes shortly before the factory was virtually wrecked and four large greenhouses were flattened with a loss reported at $40,000.

OXEN SCARCE
Syracuse, N. Y.—(UP)—Syracuse university co-eds, searching for a team of oxen to use in their Women's Day parade discovered there was only one team in this section.

As the owner preferred not to lend them, the fraternity sisters looked toward Henry Ford's prize oxen at Sudbury, Mass., but it was too late for transportation.

LEE CO. GAINED 4,302 PEOPLE IN CENSUS FIGURES

Thirteenth Congressional District Shows Gain Of 8,231 In Report

Showing a net gain of 8,231 people and a loss of 682 in number of farms since 1920 the complete government census totals for six counties in the Thirteenth congressional district are released by Supervisor of Census Martin J. Gannon.

The six counties with their census totals are: Carroll, 18,432; Joe Daviess, 20,236; Lee, 32,306; Ogle, 28,109; Stephenson, 40,044, and Whiteside, 39,117.

The six counties comprise the first federal census district of the 13th congressional district.

Both Carroll and Joe Daviess counties show census losses since 1920, the former with 913 less and Joe Daviess with 1,681.

Gains were shown by the other counties as follows: Stephenson, 2301; Whiteside, 2943; Lee 4302; Ogle, 1279.

Farms in the various counties were enumerated as follows: Stephenson, 2,630; Whiteside, 2,751; Lee, 2,643; Ogle, 2,691; Joe Daviess, 2,017; Carroll, 1,692. Each of the six counties showed a loss of number of farms during the 10 years from 1920 to 1930.

Whiteside county, however, shows the least loss of any, being only 46. The other losses of farms by counties are: Carroll 82, Ogle 92, Lee 135, Joe Daviess 161, and Stephenson 166.

Complete reports from other census districts are given by the supervisors as follows:
Twentieth district of Illinois 115,082; farms, 11,858. (Includes Brown, Calhoun, Jersey, Green, Morgan, Pike and Scott counties.)
Twenty-seventh district 205,604; farms, 10,101. (Includes Jackson, Williamson, Franklin, Pulaski, Union and Alexander counties.)

OBITUARY

JAMES MCGINTY

(Contributed)
James McGinty was born in Leitrim County, Ireland on Nov. 11, 1848. He was the son of William and Margaret (Sweeney) McGinty, and grew to manhood in his native country, later moving to Glasgow, Scotland, where he was united in marriage to Ann Waters at St. Francis Chapel, Cumberland St., Glasgow, Scotland, on Feb. 7th, 1876.

He decided to come to the United States and on May 30, 1884, with his wife and three small children, James, John and Anna, he landed in New York City.

The family located in Salem Township, Carroll Co., Ill., where they resided for several years, later moving to Dixon.

His wife preceded him in death April 3, 1906. Soon after her death he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Henry Bohlen of South Dixon township, where he passed away, May 21st, 1930, at 7:20 A. M.

He is survived by three sons and one daughter. James McGinty, Janesville, Wisconsin; John and Tom of St. Paul, Minn.; and Mrs. Henry Bohlen, Dixon, Ill. Katherine, William, Edward and Mary preceded him in death and Mary Ann died in infancy.

Six grandchildren also mourn his passing. The funeral was held Saturday, May 24, at St. Patrick's church with Rev. Fr. Warner officiating.

The funeral was largely attended by a host of relatives and friends who had known and admired this gentle, kindly man, for his honesty, his cheerful disposition and gracious manner. He was a kind father, a true Christian and will be greatly missed in the home where he spent his declining years.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was in Oakwood Cemetery.

If list price, and the first thousand miles of car operation were the only things to consider, you might be sensible in purchasing some other car besides Cadillac or La Salle.

But final costs of 25,000 to 100,000 miles of driving is the real point at issue.

Replacements must be thought of—and overhauling. They cost money.

All the customary maintenance costs are reduced—and many entirely eliminated, when you purchase a Cadillac or La Salle.

These are facts we're prepared to demonstrate to your satisfaction. When may we have the opportunity?

ASHTON NEWS

ASHTON—Among those who attended the funeral services for J. B. Wallace of Freeport were Ralph J. Dean, Harry Wisman, Gideon Hamel, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. William Schade. Mr. Wallace was principal of the local schools, prior to Prof. J. A. Torrens and had many friends in Ashton. Interment was made at his old home at Paxton, Illinois.

There will be no service at the M. E. Church in the evening next Sunday as the congregation will attend the baccalaureate address of the high school to be given by Rev. Park O. Bailey at the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jones, daughter Ruth and son Donald, were guests at the Fred Wood home on Sunday.

Mrs. Kathryn Jennings was guest of honor at the Blue Bird Inn on Monday evening at a dinner given by the eighth grade class which will be graduated this year from her room. The class in this way express their appreciation of their teacher.

INDIANS SELF-SUPPORTING
Miles City, Mont.—(UP)—Northern Cheyenne Reservation Indians are not hopeless dependents. The major part of the tribe has developed into a self sufficient and integral economic unit of the nation, according to C. B. Lohmiller, reservation superintendent. Principal occupation of the 1450 Indians is agriculture. However, scores are proficient in various trades.

Don't take a chance on Memorial Day

If you are one of the millions planning to take a week-end drive over Memorial Day, look to your tires.

Nothing wrecks the holiday frame of mind so completely as a struggle by the roadside with a tire change, while the stream of vacation traffic passes you by.

Maybe a new tube right now will save you this experience; maybe it's a new casing, or two, that you need to make sure.

Whatever it is, there's no place so well prepared and equipped to look after you as the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer.

Go see him now, he'll help you make an inspection of your tire equipment, and whether it's tires or tubes or service, he sells the world's best at prices you can afford to pay.

He's part and parcel of that combination of superior quality and superior service that makes "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than

of all the tires used in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

Where N. Y. Building Crash Killed Two, Injured Score

Here is the jumble of wreckage in which two men died and a score were injured when a building under construction collapsed in New York. Tall girders are shown tilted in the air at crazy angles—one is slanting obliquely against the walls of an adjoining factory—after the steel framework of the four-story structure had crumbled and crashed, trapping some of the workmen underneath. An investigation of the accident was ordered.

Chicago Begins Work On World's Fair Bldg.

Chicago, May 28—(UP)—The short and whine of steam shovels was Chicago's answer to those who doubt that this city will be able to go through with its plans for a World's Fair in 1933.

The shovels were busy on the Lake front scooping out a place for the first World's Fair structure—the Administration Building, which will stand between Soldier Field and the Field Museum. The building will be 340 by 140 feet and will cost $300,000.

Rufus Dawes, Chicago banker and brother of the United States Ambassador to England, set the construction machinery in motion by pulling the throttle of the shovel that lifted the first half wagon load of earth.

The Husband Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Natalie Converse, jealous of her husband's friendship with Bernardine Lamont, leaves Alan. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to his secretary, PHILIPPA WEST, for consolation, who plays her part so cleverly that they soon become engaged.

Regretful, Natalie writes Alan informing him of her return. Philip, fearful of losing Alan, leaves home and takes an apartment, and he agrees to pay for the furnishings.

Alan's meeting with Natalie, who brings her young sister, FLORENCE, with her, leaves him hopeful but baffled as to her intentions. Because of his entanglement with Philip, Alan makes no advances when left to themselves that he does not love her.

Realizing his love for his wife, Alan goes to Philip and asks her to release him. Philip refuses, and makes an appeal to his pity and chivalry.

Florence, with the help of ANDREW, her fiance, takes an illness in order to keep Natalie in New York. Desperate, Natalie turns to Alan for help and he goes home. But with no explanations forthcoming, the rift is still impassable.

Florence pleads homesickness, saying they will catch up their difficulties when left to themselves. Natalie makes a visit to Alan's office and there meets Bernardine Lamont, who is seeking Alan's advice in desperation over heavy market losses. Natalie's old jealousy flares up again, and she quarrels bitterly with Alan.

Hiding her time, Philip goes to Alan, who succumbs to her sympathy. She suggests that he go to her apartment for dinner.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXV
PHILIPPA left Alan to his thoughts, while she prepared dinner. She knew well enough that they were bitter thoughts, of the kind she wished him to have.

Now and then she glanced approvingly at him, as he hurried back and forth between her tiny kitchenette and the combination dining and living room. His air of utter dejection pleased her. He had said enough in the taxi cab on the way up to convince her he was deeply disappointed in Natalie.

She surmised his bitterness was growing moment by moment, but she could not delay dinner indefinitely. Besides, she was hungry. So finally she went over to him with a tray and put it down on a table beside the deep chair she had chosen especially for him.

She spoke to him and Alan absent-mindedly reached out a hand for a glass of tomato cocktail. He shivered slightly, for she had opened the windows to free the room of cooking smoke.

"Dinner is ready," she said matter-of-factly.

Alan got up and as he stood there Philip resisted an impulse to slip under the arm he raised to press a palm to his brow.

It came rather suddenly, his burst of words.

"Philip, I'm through," he exclaimed, putting down a fork that held the mushroom he had been about to eat.

Philip started nervously. For a wild instant it seemed to her he meant he was through with her. But he was going on, excitedly.

pouring out his indignation. "I can't see any use trying to go on with it," he declared with a vehemence that warmed Philip's heart. "I thought Natalie had changed, but she hasn't."

Philip uttered a little sound of pity, but she refrained from saying, "I told you so."

"It's no use," Alan ended weightily.

While he had talked, lost in his own interests, Philip had been doing a little thinking of her own. "So," she caustically commented to herself, "the redly was going to throw me over and go back to his wife—just going to let me fade out gracefully, flattered by discouragement." She smiled secretly. "Well, my dear Alan, that wouldn't have been so easy, but—"

"Coffee?" she asked as Alan placed his knife and fork on his plate.

"Black, please," he answered.

She brought the dessert, baker's chocolate russe, without asking if he cared for it, and was rather thankful he left it untouched. She knew Natalie had spoiled him with delicious cookery and she did not want any comparison that might reflect to her disadvantage made between them at this time. The steak, overdone, had been bad enough as it was.

"I must learn to cook," Philip said to herself, as she had said many times. She had expected to encounter as difficulty with the art—had indeed looked forward with eager anticipation to the opportunity for vying with Natalie. But, surprising to her, many of her practice meals had been sadly disappointing.

Her coffee wasn't so bad, though, she congratulated herself as she watched Alan drink cup after cup of it.

Philip was figuratively holding her breath against time. Where would Alan spend the night? At his hotel, or would he go home? He might be done with Natalie as he had said, but if he went home—Philip fiercely hoped he would stay away.

At last, when Alan was ready to go, and had not mentioned his destination, she delayed him with one pretext or another. She did not want to ask him directly where he was going, but she was about to do so, when he turned abruptly to the telephone.

PHILIPPA waited, tense and fearful. She realized clearly his anger with Natalie was too sudden and too passionate to be trusted. She doubted it would endure as he seemed to believe it would. But it might if it could be fed.

She started to say something to halt him, hoping to make him feel ridiculous if he were intending, for any reason, to call Natalie. But he spoke before she did. And the number he asked for was not that of his home. Philip remembered it; knew it was the hotel where he had stayed while Natalie was away. She sighed thoughtfully.

"Alan asked to have a room reserved. Philippa won't let him go without further delay. He was restless now. His desire to sink into meditation gone. She wished she might go with him somewhere, but he plainly wanted to be away, and by himself.

The next morning she went to the office early, nervously anxious to see Alan and find out what a night of sleeping on his anger had done to it.

Alan came in a little after nine, looking hollow-eyed and weary. Philip had hoped he would show a desire for her sympathy, but he seemed rather to wish to avoid her.

Her lips tightened ominously as she walked out of his office and seated herself at her desk. She expected to have a bad day with the girls on the office force. She knew their skill with innuendo when they dared not skimish in the open. This did not serve to sweeten her temper.

She was still further upset when Alan came out and asked her about his engagements for the day. He had read the early mail and decided suddenly that he could not stay in the office and work.

It would be no use, he thought. His heart had been set on reconciliation with Natalie; he knew it now. He could think of nothing but his great disappointment. All the bitterness was gone. He felt, simply, that both he and Natalie were helpless against her obsession of jealousy.

But what he was to do, what would happen, he did not know. He recognized only an urge to get away for a while—a day at least—and try to adjust himself to these new conditions.

He did not tell Philippa that he was going to be gone for the day. He guessed she might try to force her company upon him, and in any case she would ask questions which he did not care to answer.

So he said he would be back shortly, and left her to her stormy suspicions. They were stormy, for she understood his morning mood better than he himself understood it. She knew that his temper had subsided, that he was less determined—if determined at all—to have a definite break with Natalie.

She had worked her suspicions up to the point of believing that he was even now on his way to meet Natalie, perhaps to make up their quarrel, when Natalie walked into the office.

NATALIE was as white-faced, as exhausted looking, as Alan had been. Plainly sleep had not paid her a visit that night.

She asked for Alan, and Philippa regarded her scrutinizingly. Natalie felt her gaze uncomfortably. "He isn't here," Philippa said shortly, and Natalie supposed she treated her so because of sympathy for Alan.

She been afraid all night that she had betrayed her jealousy of Bernardine Lamont to Alan's secretary. Now she was certain of it. A dull red flush stained her cheeks and hope withdrew a little farther from her. Her voice was uneven when she asked if he had been in that morning.

"Oh, yes, he was here," Philippa answered coldly. She knew she was being reckless, but she did not care, or rather her irritation was routing her better judgment.

"Did he say when he would return?" Natalie hated to have to ask these questions. She knew they bumbled her in Miss West's eyes, but she was sternly disciplining her pride at the moment.

"No, he didn't," Philippa curtly replied.

Natalie glanced toward Alan's door. "I think I'll wait in my private office a while," she said, and turned away. She half-resented, half-excused Philippa's abruptness.

With a dare of resentment, Philippa watched her close the door. She knew that in future Natalie would always be distant with her. "If she ever comes again," she muttered, but with small belief in the doubt.

What Natalie did in Alan's office, Philippa did not know, but she grew more convinced as the time passed that she had acted foolishly toward Natalie. Suppose the quarrel should blow over, and things were to go on as they were now? She would have no influence whatsoever with Natalie, no opportunity to stir her up against Bernardine Lamont.

She was bitterly regretful. If she had been agreeable she could go in now and have a talk with Natalie. It would be a fine chance to incite her to greater jealousy. She could tell her about the visit Alan had paid to the Lamont home while she, Natalie, was away. She could tell of the many presents he had bought for Bobby, of his fondness for the little boy. And all in the guise of praising Alan for his kind-heartedness and generosity.

But it was too late now. Even if Natalie should listen

LION HANGS SELF
Gunnison, Utah—(UP)—A mountain lion, escaped from a cage after capture near here, accidentally kiled himself a short while after his dash for freedom. A chain, trailing from his neck, caught on the limb of a tree as the big cat jumped, and the animal hung, suspended in the air, until strangulation stopped his frantic efforts to free himself.

Mysterious Blast
Wrecked Clinic

Upsala, Minn., May 27—(UP)—A mysterious explosion wrecked the clinic of Dr. Knud D. Holmgren early today and seriously injured the physician.
The whole town was awakened by the terrific blast which blew the new $2,000 clinic and office structure to bits. Dr. Holmgren was found in the street, blown there apparently by the blast. The wreckage caught fire and completed the destruction.

A patient said that he had visited
Dr. Holmgren to get a prescription.
Dr. Holmgren filled the prescription and the patient left. A few minutes later the explosion occurred.

Dr. Holmgren was taken to the Little Falls hospital suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries.
No explanation could be obtained from him until he has regained consciousness.

Hoover Signs Bill
Effecting Transfer

Washington, May 27—(UP)—The first of the reform measures recommended by the Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission became a law today, when President Hoover signed the Williamson bill transferring prohibition enforcement from:

the Treasury to the Justice Department.
The transfer becomes effective
July 1, when Attorney General Milchell will take over the burden of enforcement which has been in the hands of Secretary of the Treasury
Mellon since 1921.
